Discover Szeged!

Did you know that...

Szeged is the largest city in the Great Plain with its 160,000 inhabitants in the southern part of the country. Szeged is famous for its rich cultural life, sporting events and university life. The downtown area shows a unified cityscape with its eclectic mansions and Art Nouveau buildings.

In Szeged we can find a special combination of lively city life and the proximity of nature. The city is divided by the River Tisza, which offers many recreational opportunities for those who wish to relax in the nature. The city offers various sports and entertainment possibilities and cultural experiences for tourists and locals, as well. In the „city of sunshine” everything is available for locals and guests visiting Szeged to spend their free time in an impulsive but peaceful and safe environment.

Visit our website to get more information and a positive impulse about our city:

Sunny hours per year is one of the highest here that is why Szeged is called „THE CITY OF SUNSHINE”.

SZEGED IS THE CITY OF EVENTS, as there are more than 5,000 cultural, sports and other events in the city every year.

ALBERT SZENT-GYÖRGYI is the only Hungarian Nobel laureate who was awarded the prize for research carried out in Hungary, specifically at the University of Szeged.

LAKE FEHÉR (LAKE WHITE) is Hungary's largest saline water lake and it is situated to the north of Szeged. It is carefully protected because it is home to about 280 bird species and ancient flora. It can only be visited with a guide. The area is an important stop in the migration of European birds, as it is a resting and feeding place for migratory birds. During migration, flocks of cranes, geese and various species of teals can be observed on the lake. During migration, crowds of cranes, geese and teal varieties are visible on the White Lake (Fehér-tó).

Every year in June, if the weather conditions are suitable, you can observe a spectacular natural phenomenon, the “BLOOMING OF THE TISZA”. At this time, a winged insect, the mayfly comes up from the riverbed in larvae form and hatches very quickly (5 to 10 minutes) to live as an adult for only a few hours.

WHAT is Szeged famous for?

When you hear the names of the biggest cities in the world, you always associate something with that place. Most of us associate London with the Big Ben or Barcelona with Sagrada Familia. What about Szeged? As for its geographical location, it is the River Tisza, in terms of gastronomy, it must be the fish soup, or, when it comes to architecture, probably the beautiful Art Nouveau buildings or the Cathedral which is one of the best-known symbols of the city.

Dóm

Tourists approaching Szeged can catch a glimpse of the iconic Cathedral – also known as the Votive Church – and its high towers from afar. The panoramic view from the tower offers a unique experience. While admiring the River Tisza from a bird's eye view, be mindful of the fact that this monumental Catholic church was only built as part of a solemn vow by the people of Szeged after the Great Flood had destroyed the city in 1879.

Make sure you visit the tower if you are interested in the history of baptism and admire the wall painting by Vilmos Aba-Novák entitled "The baptism of Christ". Remember to check out the stone sheep from the 12th century placed above the door as it is the oldest sculptural monument of Szeged.

The "Old Lady" still works as a water tower, so it is a rare treat to be able to pop in and visit the colorful soda machine exhibition or take a look at the city from the top. The first reinforced concrete structure of the country has been standing out from the Szeged skyline since 1904 and overlooks the Cathedral over the houses. The remarkable tower on St. Stephen's Square also boasts a so called Foucault pendulum which proves the rotation of the Earth around its axis. An extraordinary experience both inside and out!

New Synagogue

It is the 2nd largest synagogue in Hungary and the 4th one in Europe. In addition to its size and beauty, its history, as well as the lives of remarkable personalities associated with the synagogue, and also the fate of the Jewry in Szeged, all make this extraordinary building exceptional, unique and special.

The building itself tells many stories if the visitor is really watching. Its gates are open to anyone interested in architecture, history, or religion, and no one will be disappointed with this breath-taking synagogue.

Sun-ornamented houses

Sunburst gables symbolizing the Holy Trinity were quite popular ornamental features on farmhouses in Szeged in the 19th century. There are several sun-ornamented houses in Szeged. One of the most prominent is the sun-ornamented country house in Alsóváros (Downtown) where you can delight in the special old-fashioned pieces of furniture and learn more about the unique design of these farmhouses.

River Tisza

Today's cityscape of Szeged - the radial boulevards and the embankment that accompanies the river - is due to the flood of the Tisza in 1879. It has done a tremendous amount of destruction in the city, but today it provides a number of recreational opportunities, as well as the home of the spectacular blooming of the Tisza early summer, every year when the mayflies hatch. Did you know that the river used to flow in its entire length in the territory of the historic Hungary, and, therefore, it was called "the most Hungarian river"?

DOWNTOWN WALKS

SEE YOU AT THE TOURINFORM OFFICE!

Although Szeged does not have a walled old town, the most important sights can be found within the area bound by the so called "grand boulevard". Luckily, you don't even have to take the bus as they can be reached on foot, everything is easily accessible. You can observe major landmarks overhead, such as the dome of the new Synagogue, the towers of the Cathedral, or even the tower of the Town Hall. Let's take a tour, let's start at the Tourinform office. Are you ready?

Széchenyi Square

Our small walk begins at the Tourinform office. It is located in Széchenyi Square which is 50,000m² and the largest square of Szeged. Today it is one of the favourite resting places of the residents and tourists; however, a few centuries ago it served as the Main Market. In addition to the statues, it is worth visiting the „pig-headed" plane tree. According to legends if a student arriving to the town goes to this tree, they will spend a long time in the city. A highly recommended attraction for first year students!

100m

City Hall

behind hundred-year-old, giant plane trees shows where the City Hall is located, which has had the same function from the beginning of the 18th century to the present day. The tower fills Széchenyi Square with various melodies such as Beethoven's "Ode to Joy," 5 minutes before every hour every single day of the week. Visit the concerts organized in the courtyard in the summer and don't forget to check out the Bridge of Sighs.

300m

Klauzál Square

400m

Let's continue sightseeing on the pedestrian street of Szeged, which welcomes people arriving from Széchenyi Square with two special statues. You don't have to walk a lot and you will find yourself in Europa Nostra Award winning Klauzál Square where most of the mansions you can see were built in the 19th century. Refresh yourself with the water of the "Lion Fountain" commemorating the kings of the Árpád Dynasty and admire the imposing statue of Lajos Kossuth, former governor of Hungary. Imagine that 60,000 people listened to his last public speech in this area in 1849.

400m

Dugonics Square

Walking along Kárász Street, we arrive at Dugonics Square, formerly Búza Square, which functioned as a wheat market until the Great Flood of 1879. On the square you can see the main building of the University of Szeged, the Rector's building as well as the statue of the first Hungarian novelist András Dugonics. In addition, the musical fountain which is a popular meeting place among the residents of Szeged offers people rest and a stunning view with its cool water and music in the summer and the wonderful illuminated deer in the winter. Enjoy the high jets of water issuing from the fountain in summer and take a selfie with the deer in winter!

Aradi vértanúk Square 100m

Walking from Dugonics Square towards the Department Store, we reach the Square of the Martyrs of Arad split into to in the middle by tram lines no. 1 and 2, where the equestrian statue of Francis II Rákóczi and the memorial column of the Battle of Szőreg are the first to be seen. The Heroes' Gate which is only a few meters from here is also worth visiting. Its interior arch is decorated with a 300 m2 fresco by Vilmos Aba-Novák. If you are more interested in architecture, you can admire the recently renovated pink building of the Faculty of Science and Informatics of the University of Szeged.

 900m

Dóm Square

We only need to take a few steps from the Square of the Arad Martyrs to get to the best-known square in Szeged. We arrive at Dóm Square, which, due to its size and design, may remind us of St. Mark's Square in Venice. It hosts various events throughout each season, such as the Szeged Open-Air Festival in the summer; a unique atmosphere to be experienced at least once in a lifetime. The Somogyi Library can also be found here, where we can not only read, but also enjoy many cultural events.

 100m

STEFÁNIA

Walking from the Dóm Square on Korányi Alley, along the Tisza we get to Stefánia. In the park area behind the Ferenc Móra Museum there are the remains of the Maria Theresa gate of the former castle. The park, which was redone in 2020, offers a pleasant hideaway from the hot summer sunshine, but it is a wonderful experience to enjoy the almost complete Szeged section of the Tisza every season. Take a stroll around Stefánia, look at the magnificent buildings, then relax on a bench.

Hotel Kass

One of the most impressive buildings on Stefánia is the Hotel Kass. Built in 1898, it used to operate as a hotel, restaurant and café welcoming the wealthy. Violinist Pista Dankó's marble statue stands in front of the paved terrace. Today it functions as a nightclub and event venue on weekends.

ART NOUVEAU GEMS

Walking in Szeged, you will find beautiful mansions almost every step of the way. They are gorgeous, impressive, similar, yet unique. This is no coincidence, as they were all built after the Great Flood of 1879, when architects taking part in the reconstruction of the city displayed Art Nouveau motifs throughout their buildings. There are two versions of this trend: the first one is called Hungarian Art Nouveau, displaying folk art elements, and other is called European. The soft lines, vibrant colours, and especially the shapes of the aquatic world are particularly characteristic of the Art Nouveau in the city. If you look closely at these tall, ornate buildings, you can see that they are crafted to the smallest detail and their ornamentation is harmonious and balanced, like a poem. The motifs almost lead the gaze, so you can't go past any mansion without looking at them. They usually have an interesting past or history.

Reök Palace

5 min. 400 m
2 MAGYAR EDE SQUARE

The Reök Palace deserves to be called the jewel of Szeged. The masterpiece of Ede Magyar is eye-catching, the motifs of the mansion tell a story, while inside a confectionery shop and exhibitions with a unique atmosphere delight the visitors. Interestingly, this is probably the only building whose wrought iron staircase work is so dazzling that it is specifically visited by tourists and is a popular location for photo shoots. The mansion, built within just 18 months, was designed by the young architect, Ede Magyar, 29 years old at the time, who brought a little Barcelona to Szeged. The customer was Iván Reök, a water engineer, so Magyar represented the aquatic world with the ornamentation: with water lilies and with the perfectly selected color palette.

Ungár-Mayer Palace

5 min. 400 m
21 SOMOGYI STREET

As you walk across Dugonics Square, dancing ladies follow your steps from the heights - they have been doing so since 1911. The roof of the Art Nouveau building, designed by Ede Magyar, towering around the corner of the square, is adorned with distinctive decoration. Renovated in 2000, the 3-storey tin-roofed building still houses shops and apartments. When you go to the shoe store at the bottom of the building, don't forget to look up, because the ceiling is a real beauty. In this building you should be looking up anyway, as though the parts below are relatively unadorned, you can find jewels of Art Nouveau overhead.

Beregi House

3 min. 250 m
22 DEÁK FERENC STREET

Your first impression might deceive you - take a second look and you'll see beautifully elaborated details that make this building one of the representatives of Hungarian Art Nouveau. On the facade, the red colour of the bricks, the yellow colour of the ceramic as well as the totality of the plastered surfaces add subtle beauty, in addition, folk art motifs can be found in the prominent pyrogranite flower arrangements. It is worth delving deeper into the details of the building as this is how the huge jewellery box really shows off its beauty.

Deutsch Palace

8 min. 600 m
2 DÓZSA STREET

What is majolica? If you don't know the answer, just look at the blue, orange and green mansion, with a unique facade decorated with ceramic ornaments manufactured in the Zsolnay factory of Pécs. We can observe the Hungarian version of Art Nouveau on the building, which was designed by architects Mihály Erdélyi and Ödön Lechner and built within a very short period of time, between 1900 and 1902. The wrought iron lattice on the front door is also a special feature of this vibrant yet elegant mansion.

Flatiron House

4 min. 350 m
8 TAKARÉKTÁR STREET — 9 HORVÁTH MIHÁLY STREET

If you want to see an old-fashioned pharmacy of the turn of the century, you need to head towards the Flatiron House designed by Lipót Baumhorn. Because of its unique shape, it can be easily distinguished from the other mansions. The ornament of the magnificent building is overhead: it is characterized by comical heads, richly textured carved column heads and unexpectedly appearing stylized ornaments. The elegant appearance and elaborate details of the building show the craftsmen's talented work.

Gróf Palace

7 min. 500 m

20 TISZA LAJOS BOULEVARD

We cannot forget about the largest Art Nouveau mansion in Szeged. It was built in just 13 months according to the design of Jenő Ferenc Raichl. The huge, imposing mansion was completed in 1913, with ornamented motifs from Hungarian folk art, as well as the colors of blue, gold and yellow evoking an Eastern ambiance. Wrought iron balconies, flowerpots and stair railings feature classic Art Nouveau elements.

Reformed Church Palace

6 min. 450 m

37 TISZA LAJOS BOULEVARD

The most unusual Art Nouveau building in Szeged was designed by Ede Magyar. The V-shaped mansion's lofted facade balconies show off the elegance of the iron railings when the light conditions are right, with the special play of light and shadow. A lively, richly decorated building, its mosaics clearly reveal the distinctive elements of Art Nouveau.

Goldschmidt Palace

4 min. 350 m

5 TÁBOR STREET

At first, you might not even be able to fathom how beautiful the Art Nouveau building used to be, as its facade was stripped down in the mid-fifties. However, the doorway retained the impressive style that once characterized the entire building. This mansion is another masterpiece by Ede Magyar, in the gateway the motifs inspired by French ballerinas portray dancers as they move, offering flowers to the entrants.

Buildings recommended by RANN members

Since 2016 Szeged has been a member of the Art Nouveau Cities Network, whose members visited the buildings of Szeged and, as experts, shared how they see the Art Nouveau values of Szeged.

THIS IS HOW THEY SEE IT:

"I had the opportunity to visit the city of Szeged, in Hungary during a meeting of the Réseau Art Nouveau Network. During our stay, we visited several Art Nouveau buildings. Among the rich and great quantity of this heritage, I was especially impressed by three buildings designed by the architect Ede Magyar: The Church Palace, Reök Palace and Ungár-Mayer Palace, as well as the Gróf Palace designed by the architect Ferenc J. Raichle." - Inma Pascual

"We were amazed by the richness of the Art nouveau heritage that came from mixed influences (Vienna, folk arts)! We will certainly not forget the colorful and audacious shapes of the Art nouveau buildings, such as the Reök Palace, the outstanding New Synagogue, or the Deutsch Palace." - Caroline Styfhals

Cruising on the Tisza and watching the city from the river is an amazing experience. The pleasure-boat departing from Roosevelt Square starts its scheduled rides as soon as the weather is good, goes up to the confluence of the River Mures and back to the Witch Island. If you want to try what it is like to become a captain, hire a boat from the Foka Eco Harbour, or if you want to have a barbecue with your family and friends in the middle of the river, you can enjoy the services of the Pontoon Boat all day long, from morning to sunset.

Sightseeing train

Children's and adults' favorite pastime is the city train, which guides its passengers through the sights of the city from mid-March to the beginning of cold weather. The 45-minute tour starts and ends in Széchenyi Square, popping over the bridge to Újszeged. Wave to the people walking in the city while you are riding the Small Train in order to make their day happier.

Adventure trails

For both younger and older children, climbing adventure trails is great fun. Sometimes there are difficult obstacles to overcome, but every little adventurer definitely can get to the end of the track. It can be a great programme to make sure your kids fall asleep faster at the end of the day! There are two adventure trails in Szeged: the Csú-Sziki Adventure Track in the Eko-Park.

Kids Entertainment Centres

In bad weather, you don't have to stay at the accommodation with your toddler or small children, you can visit an entertainment centre where your kids can play with building blocks, dolls, can jump or roll between balls in a safe environment. The children's empire called Toy Jungle in Textilgyár Street is the largest, but you can find one in the city centre, on the first floor of the Árkád Mall behind the shops, or in Eko-Park in Újszeged.

It is perfect for the elderly, as they can relax in a quiet and peaceful environment, as well as try a variety of treatments: healing massage, a therapeutic mud treatment, or an underwater water jet massage.

Sacred places

The Cathedral (Dóm) is not the only building in the city that is architecturally outstanding. If your time allows and you are interested in sacred buildings, be sure to explore as much of the city as you can, for example, the parish of St. Nicholas in Felsőváros (Uptown) which used to be a vibrant abbey in the 13th century, or the Calvinist church, called "Rooster Church" by locals, dating back to the times of the Great Flood.

Village in the city, Alsóváros

The rustic part of Szeged - Alsóváros (Downtown) - was called Lower-Szeged in the Middle Ages. Its main square, Mátyás Square was named after king Matthias Corvinus, our fair king, who gave the right to hold weekly fairs in the area in the mid-15th century. During the Turkish occupation, this part of the city was the center of the Hungarians of Szeged, and after the Great Flood the first Sun-ornamented houses were built here. Walk around here, take a look and admire these pediments.

FRANCISCAN VISITOR CENTRE and Church at Alsóváros

The Franciscan Church of Alsóváros is one of the most monumental medieval monuments of the Hungarian Great Plain, built in late gothic style in the 15th century, towering above Alsóváros on Mátyás Square. Saint John of Capestrano recruited John Hunyadi's troops here against the Turks, and tens of thousands of participants of the monthly indulgence made a pilgrimage here from Szeged's rural surroundings. The Dedication of the Basilica of Saint Mary Major, or the feast of Our Lady of the Snows (August 5) is the feast day of the church. You can get an insight into the life and activities of the monks, as you can participate in a full guided tour at the Visitor Center at a pre-arranged time.

SZEGED CATHEDRAL VISITOR CENTRE

The sight of the two towers of the Cathedral of Szeged (Dóm) is a sure sign that you will soon be arriving in the city of sunshine. The people of Szeged jointly built the Votive Church after the flood of 1879, which had a major impact on the city's development. Although the construction was delayed, the local people kept their vow and by 1930 the construction of the country's 4th largest Catholic church was completed. Its magnificent interiors, its organ with 9040 pipes, as well as the view from its tower and its history all make the building unique. In 2016, a visitor centre with a multifunctional exhibition space and bookstore was opened under the church building. The liturgical space can be visited free of charge; entrance tickets to the tower, exhibitions and Dömötör Tower are available at the Visitor Center.

CULTURE TIPS

The good news for tourists coming to the city who are thirsty for culture is that Szeged is not only worth visiting because of the Open-Air Festival. People of all ages can find their favourite genre, from prose to opera, from pop music to classical music, from music houses to outdoor events, but it can also be a pleasure to visit the exhibitions of museums.

In addition to their own events, they host many guest performances, which are very popular with the attendees.

Korzó Music House

 4 min. 300 m
9 SZÉCHENYI SQUARE

Korzó Music House has an eventful and long history. It was once called Korzó Cinema, or Red Star Cinema, and in 2007 it switched its focus from film to music. The building is currently the seat of the Szeged Symphony Orchestra and can be a favourite venue for classical music lovers.

Beside the locals, the tourists, the Hungarian and foreign students moving in, famous people are also excited to discover Szeged, as there is plenty of beauty waiting to be explored. The theatrical life of the city is active throughout the year, with many guest performances and large-scale performances of the Szeged Open-Air Festival throughout the summer to entertain theatre lovers every weekend. Many performers show off their talent on these performances, and they spend their leisure time exploring the sunny city. We asked them what fascinates them in Szeged, which, year after year, brings them here for a little discovery.

"This is a special venue in my life, because when I was 18-19, we regularly attended performances of the Open-Air Festival with my Mother and I was dreaming of singing on that stage some time. When I learned that we were going to play Sister Act in Szeged in 2020, I was very happy to return because I am in love with the city."

- Évi Sári

"I get emotional and sentimental when I think about how much I am looking forward to this summer, because I have a whole lot of fantastic memories and experiences I will never forget."

- Pál Fekete

"Coming to Szeged is like coming home for me, I love the city itself, and I have no words to describe the experience of performing at the Open-Air Festival, it is like a dream. Here, you have to play with extra energy, because the story and the emotions have to reach 4,000 people so that they experience catharsis, too."

- Zsuzsi Vágó

"I love being here. Szeged feels like home and I am surrounded by an absolutely trustworthy environment when I work with Szeged Open-Air Festival's team."

- Róbert Alföldi

EXPLORE THE SURROUNDINGS OF SZEGED

There are places not only in Szeged but also in the surroundings that you should not miss if you are already in the area. You can easily reach the „surroundings” by car, public transport or if you are more athletic, even by bike if you want to relax a little outside of town. Although there are parks in Szeged, it is worth visiting the surrounding area for experiences in the nature, even for a day-long hiking.

The windmill of Dorozsma

The wind isn't blowing if the windmill in Dorozsma isn't spinning...” – this is how the famous Hungarian artist, Pista Dankó's well-known song begins. At one time, in Kiskundorozsma, which now is part of metropolitan Szeged, there were more than 20 windmills, where people were happy to gather for a little discussion. Experience the atmosphere of the windmill of Dorozsma which is still in operation today and has recently received its new blades of 20 meters.

Ópusztaszer

Those who want to immerse themselves in Hungarian history and enrich their knowledge in a really interesting way cannot miss the Ópusztaszer National Heritage Park. Beside the Feszty Panorama and the Open-Air Museum, the unique park presents history in a very visual way. In winter and in summer you can spend a lot of time visiting its sights, exhibitions and events. A 3D short film is an exciting introduction to the history of Hungary so visitors can get information about the past, right through the present. Among the horses, yurts and interesting plants, the Heritage Park is a great place for both the young and old, it is perfect for a full day of relaxation.

Subotica

Just 47 kms from Szeged you will find the vibrant, beautiful city of Vojvodina, Subotica. It is an outstanding touristic and cultural center. The Synagogue has been renovated and awaits its visitors in full splendour. In addition to the Synagogue, its other Art Nouveau buildings are connected to the Hungarian Art Nouveau, for instance the huge City Hall and Synagogue designed by Dezső Jakab and Marcell Komor, but the Raichl Mansion as well as several buildings of the downtown Korzó also follow the ornate trend of the Art Nouveau. With a specifically Central European look, the sights, wide variety of restaurants and programmes make spending time here an enjoyable experience for everyone.

“TASTE” THE CITY

What kind of food can you think of when you talk about Szeged? The well-known Hungaricum Pick salami, red pepper essential for making stew, or fisherman's soup? Whichever you say first, you are right. Alongside traditional restaurants with a long history, there is now a new generation of modern restaurants, so you will never go hungry if you visit one of them.

Markets

Many people still prefer to buy the food they need at the farmer's market from local farmers. On Mars Square, Saturday is the real “market day”; however, you can shop from sellers until early afternoon the rest of the week. If that's not enough, on the second Sunday of every month, Szeged Plaza holds an artisanal fair called “Bödön”, where you can find not only specialty foods, but also handmade souvenirs.

New-wave pastry and coffee shops

Walking downtown, you can discover remarkable pastry shops that have been well-known for decades, where you can have your favourite homemade napoleon with a delicious coffee. However, if you are looking for something different, you can go to new-wave cafes or pastry shops for a different atmosphere. Homely, cosy atmosphere, magical interiors, nice service, delicious handmade cakes, "free from all" sweets, enticing coffee specialties. Recharge your energy, relax a bit while roaming in the city!

Fish soup Restaurants

Who doesn't know the famous Szeged fish soup? It is not worth coming to Szeged without tasting this Szeged specialty made mainly of carp, or sometimes catfish. Fortunately, we have the opportunity to do this in several places, either in the town in the Fish Restaurant on Roosevelt Square, in the Old Kőrössi or Kiskőrössi Fish Restaurants or in the surrounding towns: Fish Restaurant in Fehértó or Algyő. Wherever you have it, enjoy it!

ACCOMMODATION

Would you like to stay in a 3 * -4 * hotel, guest house, or apartment? Fortunately, most types of accommodation are available in the city of sunshine, so you can choose the one that suits you best. You can easily walk all over Szeged on foot; however, if your accommodation is in a suburban area, you can still quickly reach the lively city centre by various forms of public transport.

In the city of Szeged, paid parking spaces can be used with pre-paid tickets. Paid parking lasts from 8:00 am to 6:00 pm on weekdays and from 8:00 am to 12:00 pm on Saturdays around Mars Square. The city has two zones (green, yellow), the colour of which is indicated by the basic colour of the parking sign. The two colours come with 4 zone codes, so make sure you always start purchasing the parking ticket with the correct zone code before you start parking.
